THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

BY MISS ALICE CAREY.
When first the skies grow warm and bright
And dash with gold the hours,
And in her pale, faint robes, the spring
Is calling up the flowers:
When children, with unsullied feet,
Go forth with hearts of glee,
To the straight and even furrows,
Where the yellow corn must be.
What a beautiful embodiment
Of ease, devoid of pride,
Is the good old-fashioned homestead,
With doors still open wide!

But when the happiest time is come

That to the year belongs,
Of uplands bright with harvest gold,
And the fields full of song:
When flocks of yet unripen corn,
And daily garnering stores,
Remind the thrifty husbandman
Of ample threshing floors—
How pleasant, from the din and dust
Of the thoroughfare aloof,
Seems the old-fashioned homestead,
With steep and mossy roof!

When home the woodman plods with axe,

Upon his shoulder swung,
And in the knotted apple tree
Are resting and sickle hung;
When light the swallows twitter
'Neath the rafters of the shed,
And the table on the ivied porch
With decent care is spread—
The hearts are lighter and freer
Than beat in the populous town,
In the old-fashioned homestead,
With gables sharp and brown.

When the flowers of summer perish

In the cold and winter wind,
And the little birds, with weary wings,
Have gone across the main;
When curls the blue smoke upward
Toward the blue sky,
And cold along the naked hills,
And white the snow-drifts lie—
In legends of love and glory
They forget the cloud and storm,
In the old-fashioned homestead,
With heart-stone simple and warm.

A WORD ON GOVERNMENT.

"He that ruleth over men must be just."—Such is the Scriptural requirement, as well as the dictate of sound philosophy, in regard to the character of civil rulers. The protection of human rights—especially of the great fundamental rights of life, liberty and property—being the grand and leading object of governmental arrangements, it must be obvious that this great end will be most surely promoted by the selection of just men for law-makers and magistrates; and that the choice of unjust or doubtful men would tend directly to defeat the great object for which all rightful governments chiefly exist.

In perfect harmony with this view of the subject, we find the great principles of our Federal government, as first set forth by the philosophic pen of Jefferson, in the Declaration of Independence; and subsequently reiterated and more specifically embodied in the Constitution of the United States. The Declaration affirms that "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," are God-given and "inalienable rights," which pertain not to one class or complexion, but to ALL—and that "to SECURE these rights, governments are instituted among men;"—while prominent among the objects which the constitution was intended to promote, (if we may be allowed to take its own word for it), are "the establishment of JUSTICE, and the security of the blessings of LIBERTY" to the people.

Concerning precisely with the Scriptural requirement, and with the great objects of civil government, as set forth in the Constitution and Declaration of Independence, we find the testimonies of the great writers on jurisprudence, and of the most distinguished champions of human freedom.

"The essence of all law (says John Hampden), is JUSTICE; and he adds, significantly, 'what is not just, is not law.'

"Whatever is JUST, (says Cicero) is the TRUE LAW; nor can this law be abrogated by any written enactments."

Lord Mansfield says, "Law is the science of JUSTICE."

"To establish JUSTICE (says the late Judge Story) must forever be one of the greatest ends of every wise government."

"Judges and officers shall then make thee, in all thy gates; and they shall judge the people with JUST JUDGMENT"—such was the injunction given to "all Israel," by Moses, their most distinguished and Heaven-favored law-giver.

Surely no honest, clear-headed, truth-loving man, who has fairly looked at the subject, can have any doubt as to the entire propriety and vital importance of the sentiments just quoted. So far as human governments act upon these principles, they act wisely, safely, in harmony with the highest interests of mankind, and with the Definite Wisdom that created and sustains the universe.

"When the wicked bear rule, the people mourn."—Of course they do—and will they may—for the establishment of justice, and the security of men's rights, are no part of the wicked ruler's object; his aim being to pervert the ways of justice and to trample on the rights of his fellows, with a view to his own aggrandizement. How can the people expect to rejoice—how can they otherwise than "mourn"—when they have, in their madness, folly or imbecility, permitted the elevation of wicked and unscrupulous men to the high places of the government?

The great mass of our countrymen do not, we fear, reflect enough upon this subject; and herein lies a constant danger—the danger of unjust laws and wicked rulers, with all their disastrous consequences, from sheer inattention on the part of those who wield the elective franchise.

Another danger—and by no means a small one—may be seen in the blind and reckless spirit of partisanship, by which men are led to support for office their own political associates, with little or no care whether they possess the needful qualifications or not. Thus we often find grossly intemperate, dishonest, and brutal individuals, elected to high legislative, judicial and executive offices—men having no proper conception of the high and virtuous objects of civil government, and hence wholly unfit to aid in enacting or administering the laws.

This disgraceful and reckless spirit of political partisanship has been hitherto a grievous and wide spread evil in our country: we rejoice to believe it is at length in a measure abated, but there is yet quite too much of it existing among us.—Free discussion, and the widest circulation of honest and able newspapers, is about the best remedy we know of, for this malady. If honest men can be persuaded to read, hear, and reason for themselves, they will finally spurn the control of shallow and unprincipled leaders, and will come to act on the side of justice, freedom, and humanity.

LOCAL NEWS.

ANNIE M. ANDREWS.

This accomplished lady is at present a guest at the Bellevue House in this city. Her presence among us revives our recollection of her heroic conduct during the prevalence of the yellow fever at Norfolk. She is quite young; was tenderly brought up, and has always had within her control ample means to administer to her necessities, and to gratify her tastes. When she heard that the yellow fever prevailed in a very malignant form in Norfolk, and that friends were making their escape from the deadly pestilence, leaving behind friends to die with no one to comfort them with a soft word, or to cool their parched lips with a single drop of water, she, acting from the volition of her own mind, determined to brave the pestilence, and with her life in her hand to go and administer what relief she could to the sick and dying. She went, and while there, was often alone in the hospital and in private dwellings with the dying and the dead; and sometimes, with her own hands, she dressed in habiliments for the grave, bodies that there was none else to care for; at other times, when almost exhausted from exertion and want of sleep, she, animated by the hope that she might be instrumental in prolonging some life, or in smoothing the pathway to the grave of some dying man, waited by the hospital couches and there lingered on the long, dull hours of night after night. When we think of the sadness of one of those lonely hours and of the noble impulses which animated and sustained her noble spirit, not amid surrounding armies of the living, but in the solitary houses of the dead and dying, we are enabled to appreciate the true nobility of the conduct of Miss Andrews, and to award to her the position among heroines to which she is so justly entitled.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A party consisting of three ladies, two gentlemen and a small boy, were placed in great jeopardy, while riding to Fort Adams on Monday evening, by their horses becoming frightened and unmanageable. The carriage was descending a hill near the Fort when the disaster occurred. In consequence of some portion of the gear falling about the heels of the horses, they were rendered wild with fear, and ran furiously down the road, until checked by dashing against a half-closed gate at the entrance of the Fort Grounds. One of the horses here fell with a broken leg. Mr. Charles Howard, the driver, was flung a distance of several feet, striking upon his face. He was badly, though not dangerously hurt. A lady of the party, as the vehicle struck, was harshly injured on the arm and shoulder. The remainder of the company fortunately escaped with slight bruises.

Let us acknowledge with pleasure the receipt of a little book entitled the "Manual of Business"—Fowler & Wells, publishers. The aim of this work is the practical instruction of young men just entering upon professional or mercantile life. Sound advice on a wide variety of topics, on every department of business and every class of employment, is contained in its pages. This hand-book is the last of a series designed for home improvement. The previous numbers—"How to Write," "How to Talk," and "How to Behave," have secured for themselves a very extensive sale in all parts of the country. The present manual of "How to do Business," is even more thoroughly adapted to meet unhesitating commendation.

Let those who wish to enjoy a rich musical entertainment, not fail to attend the Concert of Madame Hostwick this evening, at the Fillmore House Hall. By reference to her advertisement in another column will be seen the names of her talented and distinguished assistants.

With the first days of August, Newport has begun to put on its summer air of gaiety and bustle. The Hotels overflow with guests. The Beach is daily thronged with visitors. Fogs seem to have been banished by the fervent sun, and the surface of the sea, beneath the steady, gentle south west breezes, is dimpled to a dark and laughing blue. Now is the time when Fashion best loves to sojourn a while with Nature. A brief and forced enjoyment, too often, but still not a unwelcome or unhealthy one.

Court of Justices.

TUESDAY, Aug. 4th.

Main vs. Mahoney; case continued for one week.

State vs. Alex. Easton, Jr. (col.) Assault and battery on Priscilla Dubois; Guilty.—Fined five dollars and costs. Committed for non payment of fine and costs.

The other business was continued until Tuesday week, on account of absence of the Attorneys in the cases. Adjourned.

Mr. Wm. Hughes, who has already given more than one exhibition of his athletic feats in Newport during past years, commences a grand pedestrian performance to-day at Masonic Hall. He proposes to walk eighty consecutive hours without sleep or pause, upon a plank three feet wide. He commences to-day at 12 o'clock. Admirers of displays of strength and dexterity should visit Mr. Hughes during this trial. See advertisement.

MISERY FOR WANT OF MONEY.—Thousand of persons, dissatisfied with the small amount of money they have, squander even that without the hope of ever regaining it. A large majority in society do this, and thus keep themselves in misery. There is folly in such a course. If a man has a sum of money which he is inclined to throw away, because it is too small to answer his wants or his ambition, how easy is it for him to throw it into a channel, which on the return of the tide, may bring him all he desires! Such persons should know the safety of investing in the Saturday lotteries of Messrs. Swan & Co., of Atlanta, Georgia, where the State authorities supervise the drawings. One of these is drawn every week, and the prizes are distributed in sums ranging from twenty dollars to fifty thousand; throughout the country. There is a prize to every ten tickets, and by enclosing to these gentlemen ten dollars for a whole ticket, or a proportionate sum for a half or quarter of a ticket, there will be found a chance to rid the world of some of the misery in it arising from a want of money.

THE MOSQUITOES IN FLORIDA.—We think our mosquitoes a great plague, but they are merciful compared with the Florida race. In the everglades these pests are frightfully abundant. At Fort Dallas they are so plentiful that both officers and men have to guard on duty pass their whole time under bars. The sentry is provided with a mosquito veil, or rather bag, thrown over the head, and kept out from the face by a hoop; woollen clothes, boots, and gamut gloves, protect the limbs and body from their murderous attacks. Persons who have not experienced this heavy of southern life will scarcely believe that horses and cattle are actually bled to death in a single night; and woe be to that soldier or seaman who, by means of liquor, loses command of himself and falls to the ground helpless and unprotected—these insatiable vampires will fasten their fangs upon him, and draw from his heated body what fevered blood remains.

TURKISH JUSTICE.—A curious instance of Turkish provincial administration of justice has been lately witnessed at Larissa in Thessaly. The province was infested by a band of Greek robbers, who at last were hunted down and imprisoned, together with some Greek fanatic priests, who had openly called them patriots and martyrs. Their trial was to be performed according to the now regulations, which imply that the sentence is to be sent to Constantinople for confirmation. The Pasha thought this was too troublesome, and in the true Oriental spirit resorted to a much simpler way of arranging the affair. The prisoners one morning found the door of the jail unlocked and took to flight; but as they ran out of the precincts of the prison a picket of soldiers, placed behind the walls, fired upon them, killing about twenty and wounding thirty-seven. The Pasha said he had done it to simplify the procedure, since only those could have tried to escape who felt themselves guilty—the guiltless ones would certainly have remained in prison in order to have their innocence publicly acknowledged.—Cor. N. Y. Tribune.

STEAM COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ENGLAND AND NEWFOUNDLAND.—Herald, August 1, 1857.—Private advices from England are to the effect that the British government has agreed to guarantee £2000 sterling per annum in addition to the £7000 granted by Newfoundland for direct steam communication between England and St. Johns, Newfoundland, and as Mr. Cunard declines terminating his mail contract for St. Johns until its expiration in 1863, an arrangement will probably be made with the North Atlantic Steam Company to run a steamer fortnightly between Liverpool and St. Johns. This, with the mail brought by the Cunard steamers to this port and thence forwarded to St. Johns, will give the Newfoundland people weekly mails from Liverpool.—Boston Journal.

The Widow of Henry Clay is seventy six years of age. Until within a year she has been in hearty good health. Her feebleness is now, however, growing manifest, and the time is not remote when in the tomb to be erected for her husband, and by his side, she, too, will be consigned to her final earthly repose. May her closing days be tranquil, hopeful, and happy.—Transcript.

As the hair is the most ornamental part of the system, how great the anxiety of all classes to preserve it in its original beauty. To those who have lost their hair from sickness, we commend an unparalleled article, called Champlin's Xyphorolium, or Ne Plus Ultra Hair Restorative and Invigorator. Sold by H. J. Taylor.

Correspondence.

New York, Aug. 1, 1857.

MR. EDITOR:—We have been getting a general assortment of weather during this week, ranging from the roasting heat of 92 degrees Fahrenheit, on Tuesday, down to 66 and a fraction, Thursday, interspersed at intervals with drenching rains and electrical accompaniments. Except for the liability to colds, arising from such sudden and marked changes of temperature, the average weather of the last week in July, in this Babylonian capital, would have been quite tolerable. The rains have washed the streets most welcome, and cleared the sultry and dusty air, so that breathing is not only practicable, but really quite comfortable again.

The tedious if not interminable controversy relative to the Street Commissionership is still dragging its slow length along through the labyrinthine mazes of the Common Pleas, with no prospect of a final termination in this king's reign. The counsel for Devlin, (Mayor Wood's man), finding Mr. Conover's lawyer, D. D. Field, rather more than a match for them, have procured an injunction against him, so as to get him out of the way if possible; but there is no end to the complaints, warrants, injunctions, and what-nots, made, sued out, and procured in this case. I think judges need to be men of all-prevailing patience, in order to enable them to endure so many hard "trials."

The steamship Tennessee, late of the New York and California line, via the Nicaragua route, sailed from here without any public notice, on Thursday afternoon, with a good supply of fresh provisions and ice, but without anything in the shape of freight or passengers. The public curiosity is not a little excited by this queer movement, as the objects and destination of the steamer are alike unknown. Some think she is gone to take a lot of New Orleans filibusters to Cuba, Nicaragua, or some other good place; but the more likely supposition seems to be that the Nicaragua transit route will be speedily re-opened, and that the owners of the Tennessee mean to have her on hand, so as to keep "outside barbarians" from running off with their customers. The mystery, whatever it is, will doubtless solve itself in due time.

District Attorney Hall is coming down upon the Sunday grog-sellers "like a thousand of brick." He instituted proceedings against 376 of them yesterday, all of whom are said to have been guilty of violating the new Excise act on Sunday last, which renders them liable to a penalty of fifty dollars each—an aggregate of $18,800. It is high time something were done, to check the progress of intemperance among us, for the various Police Courts exhibit a most melancholy array of victims daily.

The two last shooting cases reported as having occurred on Staten Island—the one wherein a brave young lady was said to have shot a burglar, and the other a rejected lover, who romantically murdered his disdainful lady-love, two or three days ago—are alleged to be the paltriest and most groundless fabrications—not a word of truth in either. Whether "Water-Wagtail," of the Herald, was hit by a correspondent, in the case last mentioned, or whether he was merely lying, to keep his hand in, the public are not quite agreed. At all events, "no other paper had the news."

A parcel of merchants, manufacturers and other business men, with J. W. Genuin at their head, have formed a "Broadway Association," the object of which is to secure a thorough sweeping and cleaning of Broadway every night, which can be done by street-sweeping machines for about $500 per week—of which the corporation will pay $150. The balance of $350 weekly to be raised by private contribution.

Total commitments to the Jersey City prison in the month of July, 120—of which precisely four-fifths (96) were foreigners—and above one-half the whole number were Irish.

APPLES IN NEW HAMPSHIRE. The Manchester American says: "Last year apples were unusually scarce, and we are sorry to find that so far as New Hampshire orchards give evidence, there is no better prospect for the apple crop of 1857. In the valley of the Merrimack from Nashua to Franconia, and in fact in every part of the State, the fall product will not exceed that of last year."

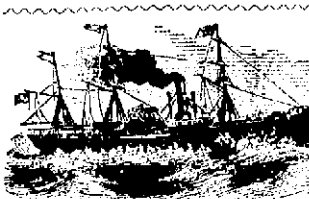

AN AVALANCHE OF CORN.—The Buffalo Commercial of Wednesday says: "A perfect avalanche of corn may soon be expected. By reference to our marine column, it will be seen that 630,000 bushels are now on the way from Chicago—the largest amount ever known at one time—for this port."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT NIAGARA FALLS.—A piece of rock weighing one hundred tons, fell from the precipice of Goat Island, Niagara, on Sunday, about three hundred feet below the British Falls. Three persons underneath were badly hurt; G. W. Parsons, of Cleveland, it is feared fatally; F. G. Williams, of New Haven, had an arm broken, and a boy had a leg broken.—Prob. Post.

The English government have determined to send their consular officers to cold instead of warm climates, hereafter, deeming a cold climate the best for consular duties, as shown by the difference in the condition of the soldiers in Canada and those in the tropical India.

"Billy, how did you lose your finger?" "Easily enough," said Billy. "I suppose so, but how?" "I guess you'd a lost your finger if it hadn't been where mine was!" "That don't answer my question!" "Well, if you must know," said Billy, "I had to cut it off, or else steal the trap."

THE AMERICAN SQUADRON TO BE INCREASED. Washington, Aug. 3.—(N. Y. Herald correspondence.) The Administration intend immediately to increase the African squadron. We now have in those waters three sloops-of-war, the Cumberland, St. Louis and Dule, making in all 60 guns. This movement is made with reference to suppressing the African slave trade, and to protect our commerce.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

WILLIAM H. SMITH, DENTIST.
Swinburne's Block, 139 Thames-st.
ALPINE HAIR BALM FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the scalp. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair and keep it from falling off, composed of Oils, Alcohol and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced that do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact contrary. It is something and emollient, allays all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching. It cures Dandruff and Scurf, and when the Hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling off, as will be seen by using this Balm for only a few days—life will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have their Hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been dyed for a week, you will find out towards the roots that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root. When this pigment coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To invent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by making anew the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can do more injury. The Alpine Hair Balm will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease.
